PATENTED DATA VIRTUALIZATION TECHNOLOGY

The vEnterprise architecture is the result of 5 years of research and development driven by the needs of demanding businesses around the globe. The result is a patented Data Virtualization engine that seamlessly provides a virtual view across any number of systems, regardless of operating-system or storage platform. Unlike other architectures that rely on legacy database connectivity to provide data integration, vEnterprise seamlessly delivers a multitude of pre-configured connectors that truly delivers on-demand integration.

vEnterprise OVERVIEW

Launched in 2009, vEnterprise radically simplifies the delivery of information by providing a single tool, single vendor solution that can be implemented in hours, not weeks or months. With a scalable architecture, users and consultants can seamlessly pull information from multiple data sources and connect the key data elements in a visual composition to deliver the information a business requires, when they need it – at a fraction of the cost of traditional integration solutions.

WHY CHOOSE vEnterprise?

The most advanced architecture – offers scalable and future-proof software based on Microsoft .NET technology.

Fully integrated and extendable – vEnterprise delivers Data Virtualization, Integration, ETL, Data Mining, Data Warehousing, Analysis, Metrics, Reporting and Business Intelligence in a single product while providing 3rd party developers with a professional SDK for extending and customis pperation.

Ease of use – vEnterprise can be up and running in hours and fully extended as business requirements change.

Intelligence on-demand – The full suite can be driven on a laptop, server or hosted in the cloud and is scalable to cater for the most demanding volume with support for in-memory processing and data compression.

Low cost, low risk – vEnterprise is the most affordable integration solution on the market and with our on-demand architecture delivers exactly what customers require, when it is required.

Microsoft SharePoint integration – vEnterprise fully supports Microsoft Windows SharePoint Services to deliver the most affordable SharePoint-based solution available.

FOR VENDORS:

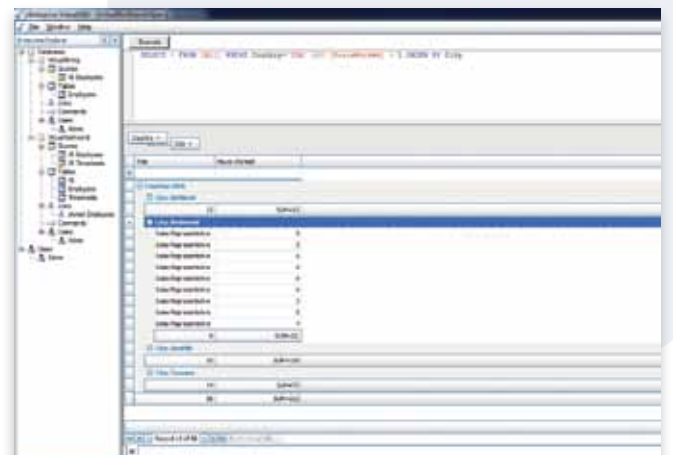

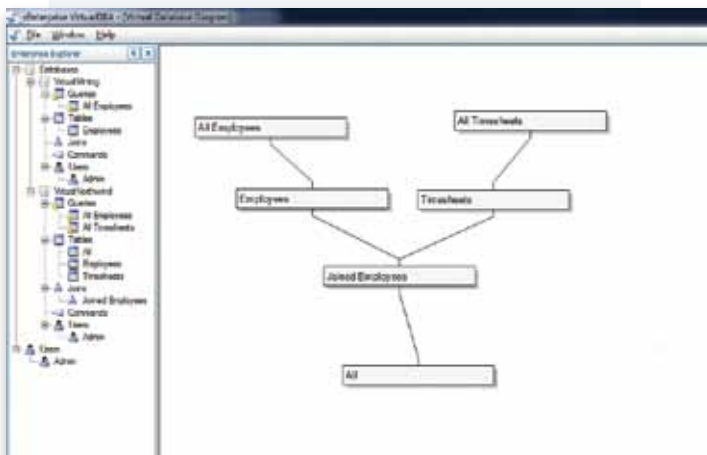

The demand for business software vendors and manufacturers to deliver information has never been stronger. However, building this capability is time intensive and severely impacts on precious R&D resources. vEnterprise enables you to integrate across your product range as well as third-party products, dramatically enhancing the intrinsic value of your solutions, affording your customers a new dimension of information consolidation, analysis and reporting.

Strengthen your competitive advantage. Innovate and differentiate by leveraging off the vEnterprise integration and development platform.

FOR CONSULTANTS AND SERVICE PROVIDERS:

Be first-to-market. The consulting game plan has just taken a giant leap forward - access your customers' data in minutes. Work with data in real time, perform complex analysis and build reports using vEnterprise's laptop-based, all-in-one solution.

Easy to use, secure, class leading in-memory processing with a powerful metrics layer coupled with extensive reporting capability redefines the way consultants and advisors engage customers and deliver value. Knowledge is power, and now you truly have the means to enhance and extend your services, faster and more profitably.
